

Rzeszow, April 13th, 2023

To whom it may concern,

This letter is about Mr. Jash Rajeshkumar Vaidya.

I have known him since 2020, when he had enrolled in the undergraduate IT program at the University of Information Technology and Management in Rzeszow, Poland. I have been acquainted with Mr. Jash Rajeshkumar Vaidya, as he was started the two classes that I taught covering 11 ECTS points. The courses were the Cisco CCNA Introduction to Network and Operating Systems.

During his stay with this program, he proved to be a good student mostly interested in programming. It was confirmed by good grades achieved in such courses as Software Engineering, Programming languages, and Artificial intelligence.

Mr. Jash Rajeshkumar is a very likable, hardworking and well-motivated person, systematic in his purpose. He is very much liked by his fellow students and remarkably at the same time showing substantial leadership qualities as the student representative.

He studies in the last semester of the IT program and prepares the diploma thesis under the supervision of Professor Kateryna Yalova demonstrating high motivation and skills.

His zeal and abilities allow me to surmise that he will not fail those who place hope in him. I have no doubts that his knowledge and personal qualities would be a substantial asset to any teaching program or professional career.

Janusz Korniak, PhD

*Vice Dean for International Studies at The Faculty of Applied Informatics
University of IT and Management in Rzeszow, Poland <http://wsiz.rzeszow.pl>
e-mail: jkorniak@wsiz.rzeszow.pl
phone: +48178661105*

